Recommendation letter for „The Science Bridge“

As President of the World Health Summit and former CEO of the Charité Universitätsmedizin Berlin, I have known Prof. Mazahir Hasan for years, when he was still working at the Charité in Berlin. We also supported his project "Science Bridge" in the past and I firmly believe it has great potential in the future.

The World Health Summit is the foremost international forum in the broad field of global health in formal relations with the World Health Organization (WHO). Our think tank is the M8 Alliance, which includes 25 major academic health centers around the world and the InterAcademy Partnership IAP with its 130 National Academies of Medicine and Sciences. Health is more than medicine and building bridges between nations, cultures and sciences is an important objective of our regular meetings. Facilitating scientific collaboration and cultural understanding between Western and Middle-Eastern / South-Asian nations has a high priority.

In this regard, we consider the objectives of "The Science Bridge" as worthy of recommendation and assure our full support to Prof. Mazahir Hasan and the organisation.
